

Fictional Narrative: An Example

Essay Paragraphs	What Happens in The Lion King	Narrative Function
Introductory Paragraph (Exposition)	Simba is born as the prince of the Pride Lands. Mufasa rules the kingdom while Scar secretly envies the throne. Simba grows up learning about responsibility.	Introduces characters, setting, and background of the story.
Body Paragraph 1: Rising Action	Scar plans to take the throne. He manipulates Simba and arranges a stampede that kills Mufasa. Simba believes he caused his father’s death. Simba runs away and grows up with Timon and Pumbaa. Meanwhile Scar becomes king and the Pride Lands fall into ruin. Nala finds Simba and convinces him to return.	The central struggle begins: Scar versus Simba for power. The tension increases as Simba must face his past and responsibility.
Body Paragraph 2: Climax	Simba returns to Pride Rock and confronts Scar. The truth about Mufasa’s death is revealed during the battle.	The highest point of conflict where the final confrontation happens.
Body Paragraph 3: Falling Action	Scar attempts to escape and blames the hyenas. Simba defeats Scar and the kingdom begins to recover.	The conflict begins to resolve after the climax.
Conclusion: Resolution	Simba becomes the rightful king. Peace returns to the Pride Lands and the circle of life continues.	The story ends with restored balance and lesson learned.

THE LION KING

Elements of a Plot

