Week-2
Expository Writing

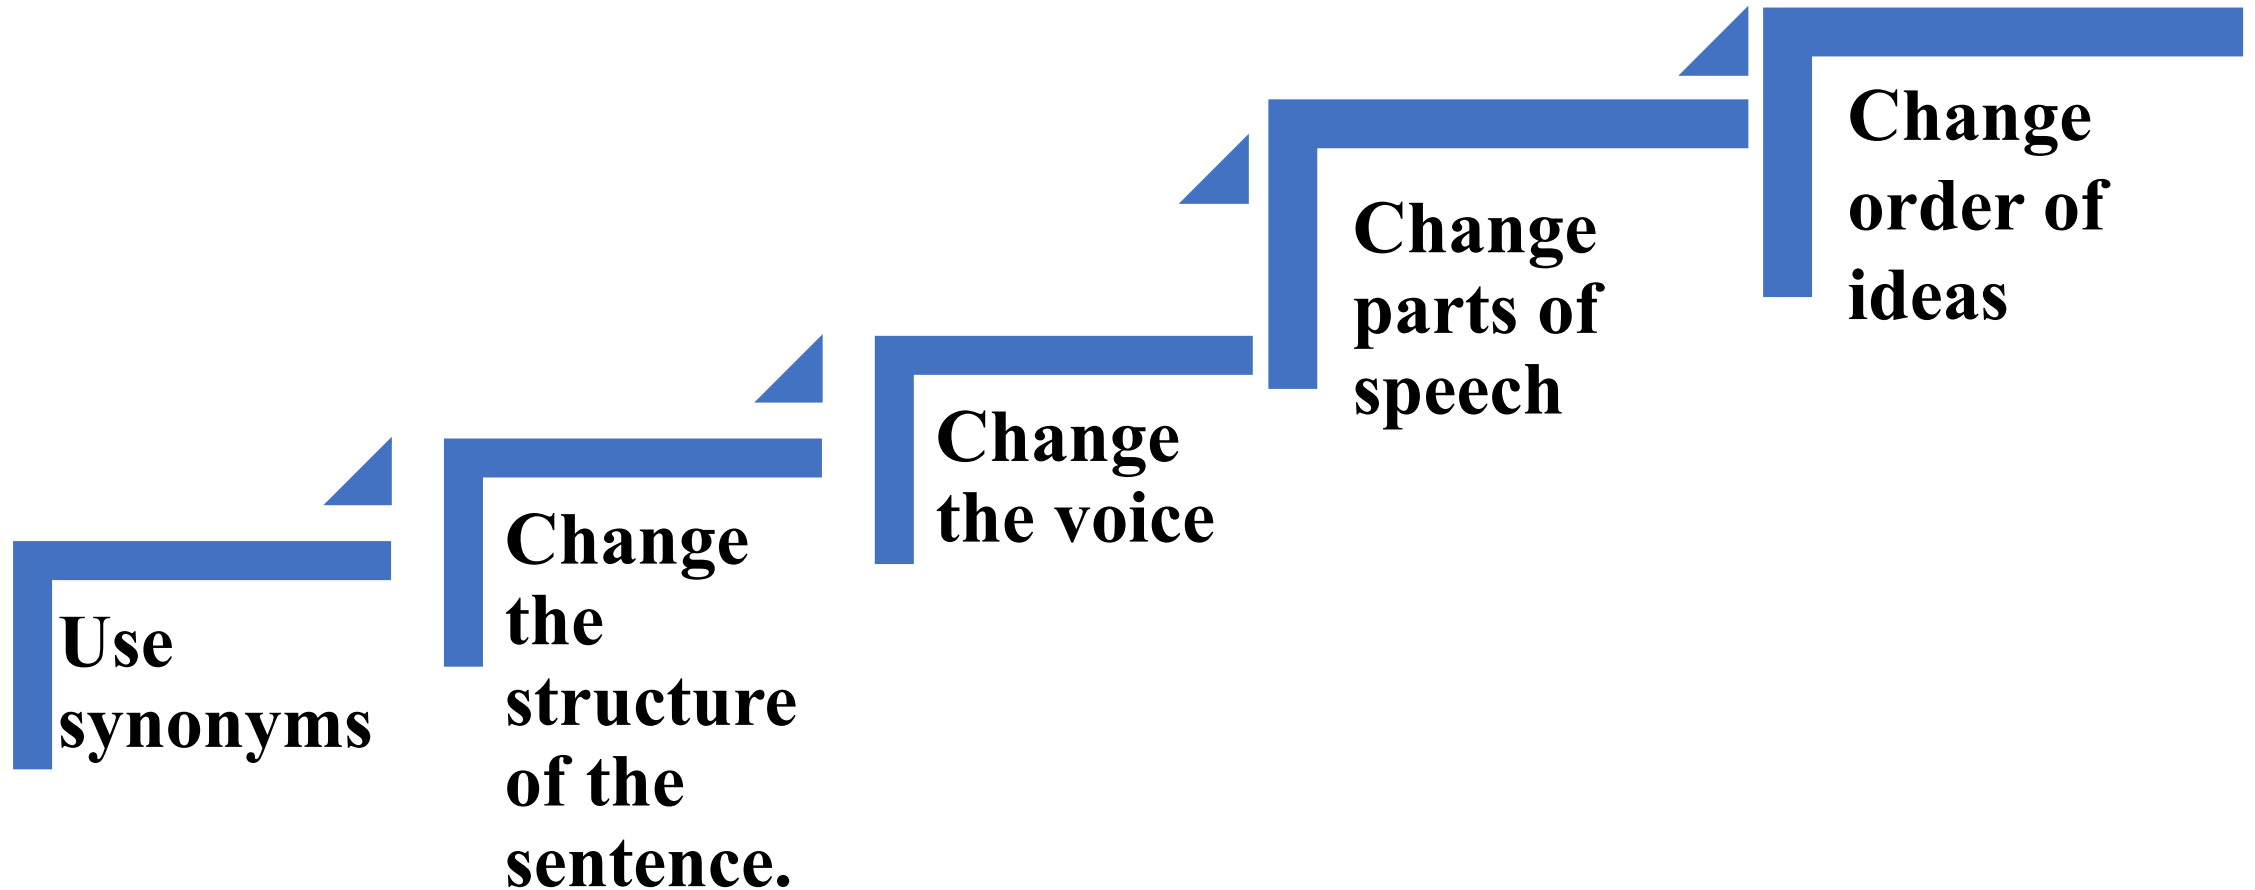

Paraphrasing and APA Citation

- Put the idea in your own words.
- Maintain the original meaning.
- Always cite the source.
- They acknowledge the original source of information you have included in your work.
- Use authors' Last names. Use an ampersand (&) to connect two authors' last names (e.g. Spacey, K., & Butler, G.)
- For three or more authors add et al., after the first author's last name and then year of publication. For example, T. Lindsey Burrell, William Sharp, Cristina Whitehouse, and Cynthia R. Johnson, will become, Burrell et al. (2019)

ORIGINAL TEXT FROM SOURCE:	"...several provincial governments are actively considering or adopting full-day kindergarten (FDK) programs. Such enthusiastic cross-Canada embrace of one specific policy instrument is counter-intuitive since FDK is more expensive to deliver than tax breaks or subsidizing parents' child care expenses" (White & Prentice, 2016, p. 27).
(1) Author last names, year, and page number in brackets at the end of the sentence:	Paraphrase (re-worded): Full-day kindergarten is a more expensive policy option for provinces in Canada than funding and tax credits for child care (White & Prentice, 2016, p. 27). Authors Year Page number
(2) Beginning with author last names in a signal phrase with year and page number in brackets at the end:	Quote (copied): Authors White and Prentice stated that the "enthusiastic cross-Canada embrace of one specific policy instrument is counter-intuitive since [full-day kindergarten] is more expensive to deliver than tax breaks or subsidizing parents' child care expenses" (2016, p. 27). Year Page number
(3) Beginning with author then year in brackets and page number in brackets at the end:	Quote (copied): Authors (Year) White and Prentice (2016) stated that the "enthusiastic cross-Canada embrace of one specific policy instrument is counter-intuitive since [full-day kindergarten] is more expensive to deliver than tax breaks or subsidizing parents' child care expenses" (p. 27). Five Strategies of Paraphrasing

Narrative and Parenthetical Citations

- Narrative citations weave the author's name into the sentence, with the year following in parentheses e.g., Smith (2023)
- parenthetical citations place both the author's name and year at the end of the sentence or clause, inside parentheses e.g., (Smith, 2023)

PARENTHETICAL	NARRATIVE
Parenthetical citations put the author(s) and the publication date inside brackets.	In narrative citations, the author is included in the sentence, and the publication date follows right after in brackets.
Example: "Contemporary architectural systems still use dynamic concepts" (Moseley, 2016).	Example: Moseley (2016) wrote that "Contemporary architectural systems still use dynamic concepts" (p. 4).

Citing Direct Quotations in APA

- Direct quotations are taken verbatim from the source. APA direct quotes are frequently used in the middle of a paragraph.

✦ Activity 1: Paraphrasing One Sentence

- ✦ Text: Leaders who lack emotional and social competence undoubtedly can become a liability to organizations, directly leading to employee disengagement, absenteeism, stress-disability claims, hostile-workplace lawsuits, and increased health care expenses.

Authors: Kenneth Nowack and Paul Zak

Publication Year: 2020

✦ Activity 2: Writing a Long Paraphrase

✦ Food selectivity is the most frequently documented and well-researched feeding problem associated with autism spectrum disorder (ASD). It most often involves strong preferences for starches and snack foods, coinciding with a bias against fruits and vegetables. Associated mealtime difficulties include disruptive mealtime behavior, rigidity surrounding eating and avoidance of certain food items based on the sensory characteristic.

- Authors: T. Lindsey Burrell, William Sharp, Cristina Whitehouse, and Cynthia R. Johnson
- Publication Year: 2019

Activity 3: Narrative vs Parenthetical Citation

- Reference:
Authors: Kenneth Nowack and Paul Zak
Year: 2020
- Task: Rewrite the sentence using narrative citation.
- Sentence: Leadership incompetence can result in serious organizational costs.
- Model Answer:
Nowack and Zak (2020) argue that ineffective leadership can result in serious organizational costs.

Activity 4: Three or More Authors

- Reference:

Authors: Ahmed Khan, Sara Malik, and John Peterson

Year: 2021

- Sentence:

Poor management practices contribute to workplace dissatisfaction.

- Task: Add a correct APA in-text citation.

- Correct Answer:

Poor management practices contribute to workplace dissatisfaction (Khan et al., 2021).

Activity 5: Direct Quotation

- Leaders who lack emotional and social competence can cause long-term damage to organizational culture by increasing stress, disengagement, and legal risks. Such leadership behaviours undermine trust and increase operational costs.

- Reference:

Authors: Kenneth Nowack and Paul Zak

Year: 2020

- Task: Cite the quotation both in parenthetical and narrative style
- Parenthetical: Leadership without emotional awareness can damage workplace relationships. As one study states, “Leaders who lack emotional and social competence can cause long-term damage to organizational culture by increasing stress, disengagement, and legal risks. Such leadership behaviours undermine trust and increase operational costs” (Nowack & Zak, 2020, p. 15).
- Narrative: Nowack and Zak (2020) argue that “Leaders who lack emotional and social competence can cause long-term damage to organizational culture by increasing stress, disengagement, and legal risks. Such leadership behaviours undermine trust and increase operational costs” (p. 22).

Paraphrase the following passage:

- “No historian should begin research with someone else’s notes. Taking notes is the first (and perhaps most important step) in developing our own interpretation of a subject. It forces us to decide (again and again) what is interesting and important” (Reuben, 2005, p. 413).
- Reuben states that in order to develop an original analysis of their topic, historians must initiate research with their own “notes” rather than relying on someone else’s analysis (2005,p.413).

Paraphrase the following passage:

- “According to our survey, 30 percent of students agreed that the university should offer a money-back guarantee if students fail to get the job they really want in their field because many students are finding themselves unemployed when they graduate” (Abrams, 1975).
- Abrams’ survey reveals that the lack of job placement for university graduates has caused some students to believe that their education should come with a money-back guarantee (1975).

- 1610, Galileo Galilei published a small book describing astronomical observations that he had made of the skies above Padua. His homemade telescopes had less magnifying and resolving power than most beginners' telescopes sold today, yet with them he made astonishing discoveries: that the moon has mountains and other topographical features; that Jupiter is orbited by satellites, which he called planets; and that the Milky Way is made up of individual stars.

Source (David Owen, "The Dark Side: Making War on Light Pollution," The New Yorker (20, August 2007, p. 28.)

- Galileo was able to make some amazing discoveries with his telescope. He made discoveries about the moon, about Jupiter, and about the Milky Way. He was able to do this with a telescope that was less powerful than even today's most basic telescopes (Owen, 2007).
